Mix Your Own Paint

Serious artists will love this paint system from Guerra Paint & Pigment, which allows you to mix infinite varieties of waterbased paints (including pearlescent and metallic) at a significant savings.

The system is simple: mix the high-quality pigments (liquid or powder) in the binder of your choice: acrylic medium, urethane, silica, flat white base, Fiberthick, liquid wax, etc; add a thickener (optional); give it a quick stir, and you have some beautiful paint to use on just about any surface.

Complete instructions accompany each paint set. The paints are of the highest professional quality and they really are very easy to use, so if you go through a lot of paint in your artwork I recommend them. But for small projects they may not be as practical.

Retail prices vary.

Poetry Dog Tags

You're going to have a lot of fun with these little "dog tags"! Each metal tag measures 1 1/2" x 1" and is stamped with a single word, like "Yes," "No," "Never" and "Forever." You get 250 tags and two half sheets of "hang your thoughts on," make jewelry, or use as embellishments for cards and art books.

The uses for these tags are practically limitless. Try writing spontaneous poetry with them—just shake out a few and see what you come up with. In two words I mean "Beyond light, lovely blood."

Use these tags to decorate your next artwork project or make them with friends at stamping conventions!

Includes a great tin box with bold graphics and a hanging tab.
